MEETING CHANGING PRACTICE NEEDS FOR ALL HEALTH PROFESSIONALS

To meet the changing practice needs of today’s health professional, the American Journal of Nursing (AJN), in cooperation with the Gerontological Society of America (GSA), has developed a series of articles designed to provide you with the latest research and cutting-edge practices to update knowledge and inform professional practice. The bimonthly series, called A New Look at the Old, is funded by Atlantic Philanthropies and began in the August 2004 issue of AJN. The articles can be accessed for free through www.NursingCenter.com/AJNolderadults. Readers can go directly to the experts on AJN’s Older Adults Forum to ask specific questions of the authors, as well as exchange information with other practitioners. (Continuing Education credits that can count toward certification in gerontological nursing are available after reading these articles.)

NETWORK LEARNING PARTNERSHIP

The AJN has also partnered with PRIMEDIA Workplace Learning www.pwpl.com/healthcare to disseminate this vital information to all healthcare providers through live and prerecorded programming broadcast via satellite networks to hospitals, nursing homes, and other healthcare institutions and facilities where care is provided, as well as making streaming webcasts available free at: www.NursingCenter.com/AJNolderadults
